

Access & Search NSAI Standards Database

NUI Galway staff and students can access the full text of Irish (IS), European (EN) and International (ISO) standards through the James Hardiman Library subscription to the NSAI Standards Database. The NSAI Standards database also provides summaries of hundreds of global standards.

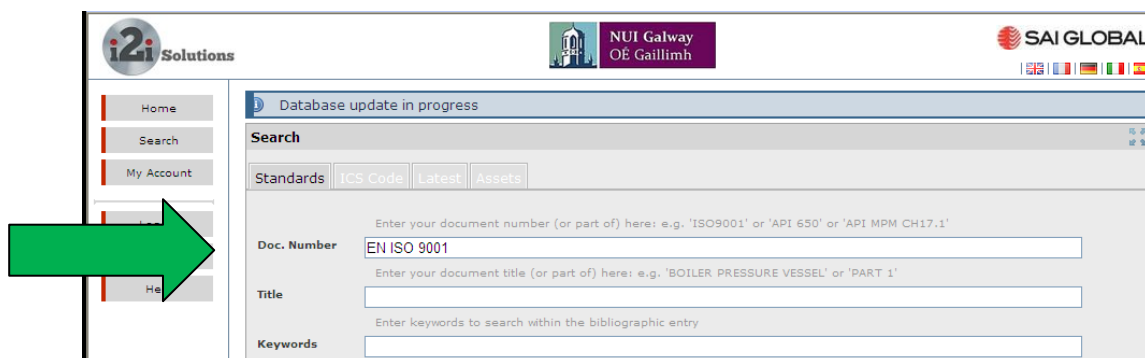

- Go to the library website at www.library.nuigalway.ie and enter NSAI in the Search box:

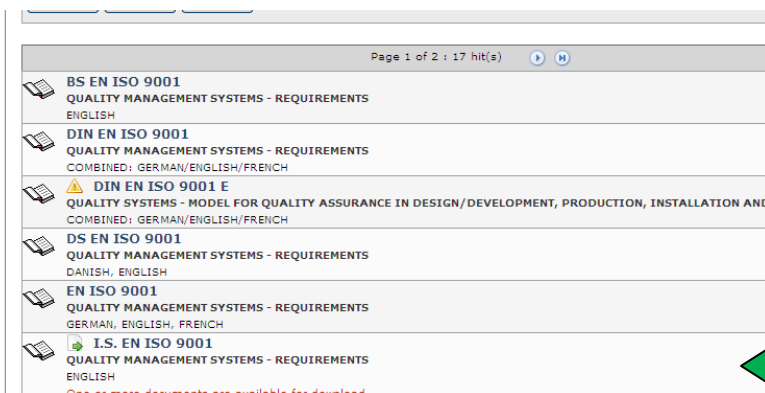

- Select NSAI from the list of results and click on the title to go to the database:

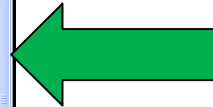

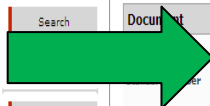

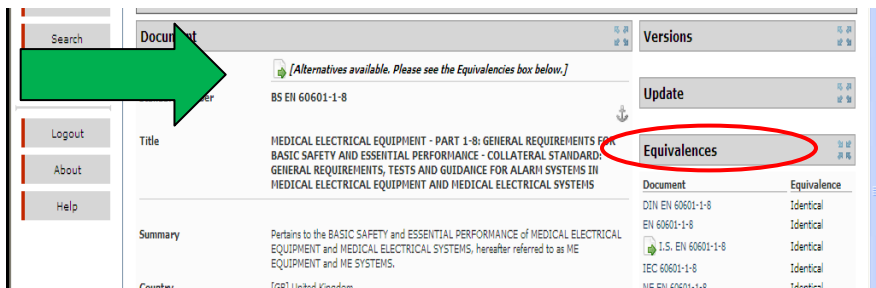

- In the standards database you can search by standard number, title, keywords or ICS Code:

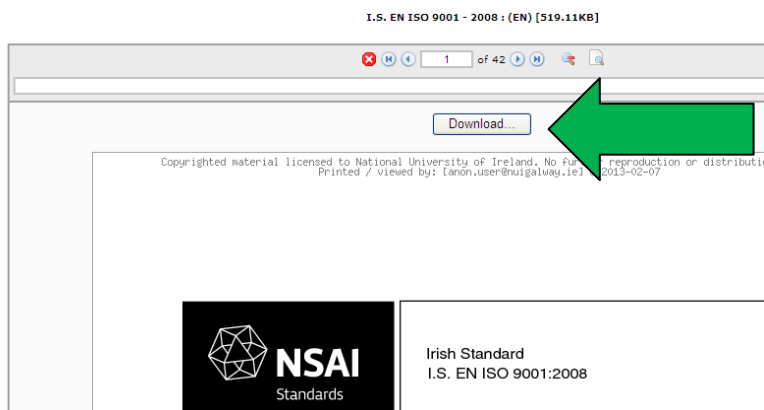

- Select a standard from the list of search results:

- Click on the green arrow icon to go to the full text of the standard if available. Click on Equivalences to check if there is an equivalent IS EN or ISO standard available full text via our subscription:

- View or download the full text of the standard:

Please contact the James Hardiman Library for more information on accessing standards:
